

PHOTOGRAPHER Munro Murray caught this "ghost town effect" of the downtown CN station and yards from the back of the moving special train carrying officials to the new yards in southwest Saskatoon. The downtown terminal is virtually deserted of rail traffic now following the opening of the new $6,000,000 terminal in southwest Saskatoon.

SEEN HERE is a front view of the new CN Saskatoon terminal. The building is faced with blue brick and orange trim, CN's colors.